TAMPICO, WHERE WAR PRICES DIE SLOWLY

There Skyrocket Heights Are Due to Oil.

TAMPICO FLOATS TO PROSPERITY ON FLUID

Prosperity of City Continues Long After Other Cities Get Back to Normal Again.

Washington, August 2—Americans who saw prices skyrocket at some and who saw commodities and rents engulfed nearly lose their sense of money values would gain food for musing at some in Tampico, the great Mexican oil town during the last few years," says a bulletin issued from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society.

This was the port to which United States gunboats were sent recently when the crisis arose of American oil wells and refineries because of heavy Mexican taxes threatened thousands of men out of work, and disorders were feared.

Floated to Prosperity on Oil.

"Tampico, long a port of the great Aztec land, has had a modern growth in the last fifteen years [illegible] the problem. The population increasing from less than 17,000 in 1895 to well over 100,000 today. And the explanation of this great stride forward can be given in one word—oil! The biggest gusher the world has ever known was drilled near Tampico in 1910 and scores of other huge streams of oil have been opened up in the same vicinity since. Hundreds of millions of gallons of oil have passed through Tampico, and the town has seen the financial and business headquarters for fields many miles away.

"Money flowed easily into the pockets of a large number of American managers and technical workers who were brought in, and into the hands of Mexican landowners, merchants and day laborers. The World war raised the demand for liquid fuel to unheard of heights and it seemed that everyone in Tampico was becoming wealthy. Commissions closely paralleled those in the oil towns of the United States. Silk shirts were not the vogue that were among the loungers along every American Main street, but in their way Tampicans became equally as proficient spenders. There was little inclination to 'count the change.' The cost of all articles of food and apparel rose tremendously. Rents soared until ordinary accomodations for Americans could not be obtained for much under $200 to $250 per month.

"Because the after-the-war industries of the world required petroleum no less than did the navies of the fighting nations during the war, Tampico's prosperity consumed after most other communities whose business was quickened by the war were experiencing a setback. Now, belatedly, the city is undergoing the readjustment that came to the rest of the world.

Handles More Freight.

"Although Tampico owes its prosperity predominantly to oil, it has other factors that contribute to its importance. Thanks to a railroad from Monterey, connecting with the mining region of north-central Mexico, and to excellent harbor improvements, the town is an important port of entry and export. It has surpassed Vera Cruz in the bulk of commodities handled, though the latter city probably is the port of entry for products of greater aggregate value.

"The city of Tampico is not directly on the seacoast but is situated a few miles up the Panuco river, which is broad and deep and affords anchorage for a large number of ocean-going ships. At the mouth of the stream at La Barra is a supplemental harbor. Near the latter place is one of the finest sea beaches to be found.

"Until Tampico found its buried treasure and shook off its lethargy it was an exceedingly unhealthy place, often being subject to epidemics of yellow fever. Drainage and the application of other modern methods of sanitation have greatly improved the health conditions. The families of numerous American and English employes of the big oil companies have moved in, and a thriving English-speaking colony exists in the higher western part of the city."

Overproduction Blamed.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 2—Declaring that the present period of depression is due to the fact that workmen have "produced too much" and that for this reason employers are requiring their workmen to "take a rest," Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas miners' union, advised the laborer not to "produce too much or you may produce yourself out of a job" in a speech here before an audience of laborers. Howat spoke at the request of labor union leaders.

Two Are Killed.

Scranton, Pennsylvania, August 2—Two men were roasted to death here at noon today, by an explosion in the power plant of the Laurel line. The dead, William Strubeck, thirty-six, and George Byers, forty-five, both of this city. Several other men narrowly escaped a similar fate.

A BANK-CHECK TAX SUGGESTED

Mellon Also Would Have License Levy on Autos.

TAX-REVISION PLAN IS GIVEN PUBLIC

Added Levy on Tobacco, Cigars and Cigarets Advocated by Treasury Secretary.

Washington, Aug. 2.—A tax of 2 cents on bank checks, a flat license tax of $10 on all automobiles, irrespective of cost or horse power; an increase of first-class postage rates to 3 cents, and an added levy on cigars, tobacco and cigarets, were among tax revision suggestions presented by Secretary Mellon to the house ways and means committee, meeting in executive session.

Other suggestions included: A reduction of 50 per cent in transportation taxes, both passenger and freight, next year and their elimination the year following; repeal of taxes on soda fountain drinks and ice cream; repeal of the excess profits tax and elimination of the $2,000 exemption on corporations' incomes; increase of the normal income tax on corporations from the present 10 per cent to 15 per cent; elimination of the surtax brackets above 40 per cent, with the surtax rates on incomes ranging from $6,000 to $50,000 to be increased.

The revenue bill, if revised in accord with these suggestions, would be designed to raise approximately $4,000,000,000 next year, it was said.

Representative Garner, the ranking Democratic member of the committee, attacked the treasury secretary's proposals, declaring that every one of them constituted a "shifting of the tax burden from the classes to the masses."

Mr. Mellon estimated government expenditures for next year at $4,675,000,000, but Chairman Fordney said this was dependent upon how much of the $500,000,000 due the railroads would have to be advanced out of the federal treasury, the cost of operating the government merchant fleet and the size of expenditures for the army and navy.

Aside from internal taxes, the treasury secretary estimated customs receipts for next year at $450,000,000 and miscellaneous receipts, including salvage, at $350,000,000. He figured that the $10 license tax on automobiles would bring in $100,000,000, and that added levy on cigars, tobacco and cigarets an additional $25,000,000. Increased postal rates have been estimated to yield another $75,000,000, but the estimate as to the income from the proposed tax on bank checks was not disclosed.

The loss of revenue through reduction of the transportation taxes has been placed at approximately $150,000,000.

Chairman Fordney reiterated his statement of last Saturday that he believed the nation's tax bill could be cut $500,000,000 and the government run for $4,000,000,000 a year.

THIRTY PERISH IN BUCKEYE STATE FIRES

Fire Fatalities Reported for Month of July.

Columbus, Aug. 2—Lightning led among the causes of death from fire in Ohio during July, according to the monthly report of State Fire Marshal H. A. Dykeman. Eight persons were killed and 12 injured by lightning fires during the month.

Thirty persons in all were killed in Ohio during July by fire or fire causes. Thirteen of these were children, the causes of death being: lightning, 1; matches, 4; electric wires, 3; gunpowder, 1; hot clinkers, 1; bonfires, 1; oil, probably murder victims, 2. Fourth of July claimed two victims, a man and a child. High voltage wires and other electrical troubles killed seven.

The number of injuries from fire during July is the largest for any month since the fire marshal's office started keeping casualty records. Thirty-three of these must be attributed to a return in certain localities of the old-time Fourth of July celebration. The number of deaths in July exceeded by four and the number of injuries by 20 the casualty record of July, 1920.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman D. Jones, of south Vine street, returned Saturday evening from a two-weeks motor trip along the Southern and Eastern coasts.

TO FLY ACROSS POLE PLAN OF AN AVIATOR

New York Man To Make Trip from Alaska to Norway.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Plans for a transpolar flight in September from Point Barrow, Alaska, to Spitzbergen and the North Cape, Norway, were announced here by Edwin Fairfax Naulty of New York. Scientific observations of ocean, air and ice currents will be the chief purpose of the trip, he said, with the hope of establishing the feasibility of the new route for commerce as a secondary consideration.

The start will be made from Seattle with a convoy of several planes, which will proceed by easy stages up the Alaskan coast to Point Barrow. The Arctic flight will be made by one plane, which has already been constructed, carrying four men, including Naulty. The other three are former service men.

DOCKS BLOCKADED BY STORES OF COAL

Coal Is Not in Demand in Northwest, a Report Says.

Minneapolis, Aug. 2.—Docks at the head of the lakes are practically blockaded with coal, which is not moving inland because of lack of demand, according to W. W. Broughton, president of the Northwest Coal Dock Operators' association. "Unless there is a substantial increase in demand from the consuming public very soon, so that shipments can be made to inland points from the head of the lakes to make room for the necessary additional receipts," Mr. Broughton said, "the total tonnage of coal received before the lakes close to navigation will not equal that of last year, and may cause a shortage in the northwest."

Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Lawson and Howard Lawson, of east Center street, left this morning for a week's motor trip to Lansing, Detroit, Ann Arbor and Howell, Michigan.

CHANGED ORDER OF THINGS NEAR

Coming Conference May Minimize Cause of War.

HARDING HOPEFUL OF WORLD PEACE

Nation Slowly, but Surely, Recovering from Wastes and Disarrangement of War.

Plymouth, Mass., Aug. 2—A promise of a changed order of things from the international conference on disarmament to be held in Washington this fall was held out by President Harding in his speech at the Pilgrim tercentenary here.

"Our faith is firmer that war's causes may be minimized and overburdening armament may be largely diminished. And these, too, without surrender of the nationality which has inspired or the good conscience which has defended.

"The international prospect is more than promising and the distress and depression at home are symptomatic of early recovery. Solvent financially, sound economically, unrivaled in genius, unexcelled in industry, resolute in determination and unwavering in faith, these United States will carry on."

Posterity must uphold the torch of liberty set ablaze by the Pilgrims, the president said. "Just as these Pilgrim fathers drew together toward ample community authority to make the nation and still preserve the freedom of those who oppose, we guard against the supreme centralization of power at home, superstate for the world," he declared.

"More, we must combat the menace in the growing assumption that the state must support the people, for just government is merely the guarantee to the people of the right and opportunity of that people to support themselves."

The president pictured as "the one outstanding danger of today the tendency to turn to Washington for the things which are the tasks or the duties of the 48 commonwealths which constitute the nation. Having wrought the nation as the central power of preservation and defense, let us preserve it so," said the president.

President and Mrs. Harding sailed at midnight on the presidential yacht Mayflower for Portland, Me., en route to a short vacation at the summer lodge of Secretary of War Weeks at Lancaster, N. H.

BOARD VOTES $4,000 TO EQUIP VOCATIONAL SHOP

Director Bartholomew Outlines Program for Work.

SEVEN PRINCIPALS ASK SALARY READJUSTMENT

Want More Pay for Supervision. More Equal Division of School-House Insurance.

Principals of seven grade schools at the regular meeting of the board of education in the Harding High school building Monday evening, presented a request that the board reconsider the matter of compensation so that salaries of principals be figured according to enrollment and the number of teachers in the building, rather than basing it on the number of rooms.

While board members expressed a willingness to arrange an adjustment, they pointed out that such action will be difficult because of the straightened financial condition of the board. No action was taken, it being the sense of the board that the matter of adjustment be taken up in the near future.

Appropriation of $4,000.

An appropriation of $4,000 to equip a school shop for vocational education was made on the recommendation of A. W. Bartholomew, new director of vocational education. Mr. Bartholomew, a typical Yankee, presented estimates tending to show that this amount will completely equip a small shop with the necessary machinery for inaugurating vocational education in the schools.

J. Lewis Ellis, architect for the Oakland Heights addition presented a report that the contract has been completed and the addition ready for acceptance by the board. Acceptance of the building, however, was delayed until adequate insurance can be placed on it.

Equal Insurance Division.

A $10,000 policy was placed with the A. W. Kelle agency and it is the intention of the board to secure an additional $20,000 of insurance on the addition, following a plan of distributing the insurance on all buildings as equally as possible along various agencies.

In making his report, Mr. Ellis stated that John Baldauf, the contractor, allowed the board a deduction of $400 from the contract price for the omission of the wood floor in the gymnasium.

At a previous meeting the board decided to omit this floor for the present on account of difficulty experienced in draining the basement of the old building.

Miss Dombaugh as Spokesman.

Miss Alice Dombaugh, principal of the State Street building, first presented the matter of principals' salaries. She called attention to the fact that for several years the salaries of principals in four, six and eight-room buildings have been the same. She said that most four-room buildings have an enrollment of approximately 160, with four teachers, while some of the eight-room buildings have nine and as many as twelve teachers, and stated that the work is much more difficult in buildings where two sessions are held, causing the principals to work eight, nine and in some cases ten hours a day. "In these cases, supervision must be done in the mornings, during recesses and in the evenings," Miss Dombaugh said.

Wants a Readjustment.

"We are not asking for a raise, but for adjustment of salaries as principals on the basis of fairness and in consideration of the work that is being done. According to the present schedule principals of buildings of eight rooms and less receive $10 in addition to their regular salaries as teachers. This amounts to fifty cents a day, and while we do not value our work in terms of dollars and cents, it gives one a better feeling to know that the work is appreciated and the compensation fair."

Other principals who attended the meeting, all of whom spoke, were Miss Hattie Christian, Mark Street; Miss Linda Willauer, Forest Lawn; Miss Grace Baldwin, Oliney avenue; Mrs. Fern West, Oak Street; Miss Elma Howser, Pearl Street, and Mrs. Nellie Irey, Greenwood.

Payroll Already Excessive.

Acting Clerk H. J. Merchant read the section of the salary schedule dealing with salaries of principals. It provides for compensation in addition to the regular salaries as teachers of $10 a month for buildings of eight rooms or less, $15 a month for buildings of more than eight and up to twelve rooms and $20 a month for buildings of more than twelve rooms.

"Our salary schedule in force now," Mr. Merchant said, "means that in three or four years sixty to seventy per cent. of the teachers will be drawing the maximum or almost the maximum salary, bringing the payroll to between $350,000 and $400,000 a year. This amount is far in excess of the sum we receive for all purposes for education in Marion."

Mr. Merchant said that if there are one or two cases where principals do supervisory work only, he felt that all should be relieved of their teaching duties in order to devote all of their time to administrative work.

Dr. H. H. McVay, superintendent of schools, called attention to the extra work occasioned by the handling of books by the principals last year and said that financial responsibility for this is one of the things that principals are charged with. He said that if it were possible to confine the work of all principals to supervision it would be well worth while. Dr. McVay suggested a readjustment which would base the salary on the number of teachers in the building rather than on the number of rooms.

Vocational Work Outlined.

Mr. Bartholomew presented estimates for equipping a shop for vocational education which he said would accommodate a class of twenty boys at each of four periods a day, making a total of eighty pupils who would take the work each day. His plan contemplates making two divisions in vocational education, one of which would receive instruction in the shop and the other in mechanical drawing and allied work. He also suggested converting the manual training department into pattern making and said that this section would also accommodate eighty pupils daily.

Included in the list of machinery Mr. Bartholomew prepared are eight lathes, a milling machine, shaper, two drill presses, speed lathe, pulleys, shafting, hangers, belts, benches, vises, anvil, small forge, small gas furnace, drills, taps, reamers and other necessary tools. He stated he intended going to Cleveland today to look up some of this machinery and he said he felt he could equip the entire shop for about one-half the cost of machinery at the present market prices.

Sixty teachers' chairs were purchased by the board from the H. Schaffner Furniture company at its bid of $11.50 a dozen. This was the only bid presented.

The report of the board of school examiners showed that fourteen took the teachers' examination July 18, all of whom passed. Eight passed the examination for one year, four for three years and two for two years. Certificates issued were one special for one year, one high school for one year, six grade for one year, two grade for two years and four grade for three years. Properly approved bills were ordered paid.

Tentative Junior High Course.

Dr. McVay presented a suggested course for the junior high schools, which are to be inaugurated this year. An outline of this course, with the number of hours following each subject, follows:

Seventh Grade — English, five; mathematics, five; history and civics, five; geography and current events, five; manual arts and drawing, five; physical education, two; music, two; general exercises, one, and French or penmanship and special English, five.

Eighth Grade—English, five; mathematics, five; history and current events, five; physiology and hygiene, three; physical education, two; manual arts and drawing, five; occupations, two; music, two; general exercises, one, and French or penmanship and special English, five.

Various Ninth Grades.

Ninth Grade, Classical — Latin, five; algebra, five; English, five; ancient history, five; physical education, two; music, two, and general exercises, one. Pupil to elect five hours from home economics; general science, five; business forms and penmanship, five and commercial arithmetic, five.

Ninth Grade, Scientific—General science, five; algebra, five; English, five; ancient history, five; physical education, two; music and general exercises, one. Pupil to elect five hours from home economics, five; Latin, five; business forms and penmanship, five, and commercial arithmetic, five.

Ninth Grade, Commercial—Commercial arithmetic, five, business forms and penmanship, five, English, five; general science, five; physical education, two; music, two, and general exercises, one. Pupil to elect five hours from algebra; ancient history, five; home economics, five, and Latin, five.

Ninth Grade, Vocational—Mechanical drawing, five; machine shop, twenty; English, five; algebra, five; general science, five; physical education, two; music, two, and general exercises, one.

Provides Seven Periods.

The schedule provides for seven periods of fifty minutes each and the hours of school from 8 to 11:20 in the mornings and from 12:05 to 3:15 in the afternoon. It is pointed out that boys of the technical course may be obliged to continue their machine shop practice for a longer time, as they are expected to learn a trade in addition to the academic work of the school course.

Considerable time was taken up in a discussion of the arrangement of departmental and junior high schools. No action was taken, but Dr. McVay was requested to put his recommendations in writing and submit them for approval at the next meeting of the board.

Daily Proverb—"The hot pruning, but working, shall bring in the harvest."

Judging by reports, there hasn't been any shortage of rain up at Camp Perry, this summer.

Let's be fair to the great majority of Ohio mayors, bearing in mind that it's the exceptions which please us here.

In other words, Ed. Herbert was another quick-on-the-draw pitcher that went to the wall once too often.

Not all of us in this old world of ours are unemployed. Some of us fail at a two-bellied burgers' strike and yet provide in ourselves.

We haven't heard of any fatalities resulting from the failure of any poor sick man to arrange health failing to get medicinal beer.

We confess that we more readily understand the prices for diners since the makers have explained that it's the cost of the boxes.

It's our guess that it's former President Wilson's view that the changing by Turin of the name of Wilson avenue to Fiume avenue is another thing not worth worrying about.

When the trains on Mr. Ford's road refuse to budge, do the passengers have to go around in front and crank the engine?

Will this limitation of armaments extend to the women with a tendency to shoot their husbands full of holes when they locate a man they fancy more?

Life's a lot more worth the living than it might be. Suppose we had to live the way the food specialists tell us we should?

Many a good Marionite is bearing a sigh of relief over the fact that he has his coal in, but it is hardly a case of unalloyed happiness with him till it's paid for.

It would be easier to credit the story that women generally were smoking if it came at a time when tobacco was in general use.

We are told that four Russian rubles can be purchased for a cent, but if a man is simply bound to get rid of his money why would it not be a saving of time and effort to throw it away?

There is one respect in which Germany is alike each of our allies in the World war as two peas. She owes us money.

We will go even further than the three-cent postage suggestion. Make the rate ten—at least five—and possibly it may stem the flood of alleged poetry.

Still, think what the price of bootch might be if the bootleggers had to equip themselves with fancy mirrors, cut glass and brass rails and listen to the maudlin utterances of their customers.

We admit a little curiosity regarding whether Trotzky was made food dictator after he was jailed or jailed after he was made food dictator.

What if many people do not think for themselves, as charged? Look how many efficiency experts and safety-first reformers we have hearing about, looking for an easy way of making a living!

Something tells us that the representatives of foreign powers coming over for the conference looking to the limitation of armaments will not go in every effort for the leasing of palaces.

A physician says a dangerous to go swimming after eating recently. If so the Atlantic army holds out may be accepted as accurate, there are going to be mighty few drownings this coming winter.

"A different watermelon for each guest," declares a physician at twenty-five cents a portion," remarks the Chicago News. "It is an unprofitable investment." Your pet watermelon scheme is an excellent one, but where do you get the different melons, and how do you convert into sixteen portions without the naked eye?

CHINA BRINGS HIM TO THE CONFERENCE

OPEN CONSIDERATION.

A "preliminary conference" on Pacific and Far-Eastern questions would be contrary to the spirit of the age. One government will not consent to one. If the British and some others persist in their demand and carry on the project the whole enterprise, fraught with possibilities of universal good, may be wrecked.

The proposal for a preliminary conference to which should be admitted only representatives of powers having particular interests in the Pacific and Far East hags statistic. To hold terms it is a bid for secret negotiations, secret bargainings and secret settlements without consideration of common rights or principles of justice. It is an attempt to force the Old World diplomacy, ever destitute of wars, on the United States of America. Could it succeed we might never know until the barrelmen quarreled over the spoils previously what had been done; the outlaw-more would be but a rallying agency, rallying what the strong were able to compel the weak to accede to blindly.

The imaginations of people have been stirred, their hopes lumped higher than ever before, by the openness with which the American government has proceeded in this business. Nothing has been concealed.

We are going into this thing with pure purpose and we shall come out of it with honor unimpaired. If the others invited are not willing to discuss the problems on their merits and settle them on a basis of justice, the enterprise would better be given up.

"Twenty quarts of whisky were listed among the effects of a wealthy New York man," says the Kansas City Star. Under the circumstances, why waste a perfectly good word like wealthy?

We hate to believe that any paragrapher of the land is so unpatriotic as to be in the tax-dodging class, yet we fail to recall the name of a single one listed as paying taxes on an income of a million.

REGARDING BEST SELLERS.

"I never read best sellers," says the high-brow when he is asked whether he has read this or that recently published book of wide circulation. The tone in which this rejoinder is delivered is supposed to make the unfortunate victim of it feel that it is best not to read books which have a wide circulation.

From remarks recently made before the convention of the American Library association it seems, however, as though the high-brow is not altogether justified in dropping so easily of the matter. It was brought out at this convention that even among best sellers there are distinct classes, and that a wide sale of a book is not necessarily a sign that it is trash, as is commonly supposed in high-brow circles.

It was admitted that, of course, there are best sellers which will not live beyond the passing moment, and the sales of these books often reach into the millions. They make a wide appeal, they live their little day, and then they are gone. One of our American writers who has not been writing more than a few years, boasts of a sale of 7,000,000 copies, and it is a figure reached by Harold Bell Wright is exceeded by that of Gene Stratton Porter, whose total sales amount to more than 8,000,000 copies.

With all due credit to these prolific fancies on the home shelves it must be forgotten, however, that Mark Twain's sales during the four years last passed reached 25,000 copies a year; and that Kipling's did to the extent of 2,000,000 copies last year. In 1901 Richard Kipling's sale was ten times what it is now in 1921; and his books stand up in selling the demand for them is not a transient one, nor is it confined to the moment. Joseph Conrad's sales were phenomenal when he great last year as they were in 1911, when this writer does not write out of the subject.

From the [illegible] books by [illegible] that [illegible] so [illegible] it will be by [illegible] that [illegible] the best sellers [illegible] a lot of people want to read it.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

(By Dr. James Ball Naylor.)

IN THE COURT-ROOM.

A court-room is a good place in which to study human nature.

The judge on the bench, the attorneys, the jurymen, the witnesses and the assembled auditors and idlers, all afford profitable material.

In a criminal case, the prisoner at the bar is not to be neglected.

Some judges are so bristlingly dignified and arrogant, so obtrusive and self-assertive, as to appear self-conscious; others are so meek and retiring, so self-effacing and apologetic, as to seem pitiable.

Some lawyers are so self-sufficient and cocksure, and hold the judge and jury in such contempt, that they are impressive and oppressive; and others are so timid and withdrawing that one rather expects them to have fainting attacks and need smelling-salts.

Some jurymen are alert and nervous; some are drowsy and stolid; some are patently uninterested; and some are frankly bored.

As for the observers, they are of many kinds and conditions; of high and low degree. Some are well-dressed and clean; others are ragged and foul-smelling. Plainly, some are well-to-do; just as plainly, others are not. Some are present because they have a genuine concern about the outcome of the case; others have dropped in to loaf away the time, in a comfortable place; and still others are there from force of habit—mere force of habit. They couldn't tell why they came; they might just as well be anywhere else on earth.

Some prisoners show guilt—when they are innocent; some display innocence—when they are guilty. Some are hard and defiant; some are scared and tearful. Some gain sympathy by their appearance and deportment; others would be better off a thousand miles away from the solemn scene.

However, the witnesses furnish the best cases for observation and study; also, they furnish the most amusement to the crowd. Some are matches for the attorneys; others are utterly helpless in the hands of attorneys. Some are duly intelligent, of course; others are densely ignorant, to be sure.

Here are a few court-room anecdotes, by way of illustration.

"Now, you say, sir," said the lawyer to the witness, "that you personally heard the quarrel between the defendant and his wife?"

"I did."

"Well, now," said the lawyer, "suppose you tell us exactly what the defendant seemed to be doing."

"He was doing the listening."

"Did you overhear the controversy between these two gentlemen?" asked the judge of the colored witness.

"No, suh, judge," the shrinking black replied. "Ah didn't heah nothin' like that. All ah heard was some powerful loud cussin'."

The brow-beating attorney frowned over the frightened witness, cracked a fist into a palm, and demanded:

"Now, sir! Did I understand you to say to the judge and the jury that the defendant here shot Smithers' due in self-defense?"

"No, sir," squeaked the intended hero's man who was in the witness box, "I said he shot the dog in the side and he jumped the fence."

Courts are fearfully and wonderfully made.

REALTORS FROLIC AT VERNON HEIGHTS PARK

Rain Cuts Their Business Short Late Monday.

BUT NOT UNTIL AFTER SUPPER AND CONTESTS.

C. A. Curtis Carries Off the Honors in a Horseshoe Pitching Contest.

The Marion Real Estate board meeting held at Vernon Heights park Monday afternoon and evening, the board being the guests of the Vernon Heights Realty company, was quickly terminated shortly after 7 p. m. when an abundance of rain scattered the crowd. But, before the business meeting was adjourned in such an unceremonious manner, heaps of fun and a large picnic supper had been enjoyed by the fifty or more members in attendance.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the members of the board started arriving at the park and by 5 o'clock horse-shoe contests, volleys ball and baseball were being entered into enthusiastically, not to speak of golf, for several members of the company brought along their clubs and practiced drives.

C. A. Curtis walked off with the undisputed title in the horse-shoe contest and was awarded a cup.

At the sound of the dinner gong sporting activities slumped and the realtors lined up for bacon and eggs, coffee, etc., which tasted mighty good cooked over a wood fire. A half hour having passed, all gave an ampliative sigh, and left the table with a grin of satisfaction.

Following the supper, the business meeting had been started, the secretary having just completed reading his minutes of the last meeting when the aforementioned raindrops promptly adjourned the meeting.

NOW LOWLY TOOTHPICKS OUT OF DATE. YOU KNOW

It Isn't Polite To Use 'Em Publicly.

Toothpicks are going out of style in Marion, according to the restaurant men. A bowl of the former epicurean necessity now remains filled for weeks at a time.

Restaurant owners claim the humble toothpick, now declasse, is not wanted any more for several reasons. One is that more people are going to the dentists, and another is that the rising generation is gradually absorbing the fact that toothpicks are not part of the equipment of people who smack of "kultur."

BASEBALL

Tagging the Bases.

Waite Hoyt kept the hits well scattered and the Yanks trimmed the Indians.

The Pirates held their place at the top by defeating Boston.

Shank's triple and O'Rourke's single accounted for the only run made in a pitching duel between Mogridge and Oldham at Washington.

The Phillies knocked Cheeves off the mound in the first inning.

George Sisler was the only member of the Browns to get a hit off Joe Bush of the Red Sox.

The White Sox gave Roy Wilkinson great support and came from behind in the ninth to beat the Athletics.

Markle pitching for the Reds walked Young with the bases full and forced Sallee home with the run that gave the Giants the victory.

Olson's double with the bases full, followed by Johnston's two-bagger and a wild pitch by Sherdel, gave the Dodgers a ninth-inning triumph over the Cardinals.

VEIOCK ON SPORTS

New York, August 2. — With champion Jack Dempsey well on his way from the Pacific coast to New York, today, and Tex. Rickard sounding out Jess Willard regarding his physical condition, heavyweight stock rose several points.

Richkard has the signed agreements of Tommy Gibbons and Georges Carpentier to meet for the world's light-heavyweight championship, in October, but with the Labor-date open for his big Jersey City arena he stands ready to promote two big matches in the fall if possible.

It is just a month today, since Dempsey knocked out Georges Carpentier. He is getting restless and is ready to sign up with the best man available. In case no big match is clinched within the next few weeks, it is believed the champion and his manager, Jack Kearns, will pack trunks and head for the other side of the Atlantic for a tour of Europe. They have several offers for such a tour.

Honors Even.

Columbus, August 2.— Honors were even at the end of the twelve-round bout between Johnny Karr, Cleveland welterweight and Jack Perry Boston, former local resident, at the Fairmont arena here.

Fast action marked a contest lasting eight rounds, between Eddie Conrad, Cleveland and Johnny Martin, Columbus, with honors even.

Young Stanley, Akron lightweight, defeated Johnny Gardner, Columbus, in a four-round go. A four-round contest between Bobby Randolph, Akron, and Lou. Janita, Columbus, 108 pounds, ended in a draw.

Following an ovation at the arena, Bryan Downey, middleweight champion and Jimmy Dunn, his manager, left for New York, where he may sign up for a fight. Leo P. Flynn, associated with Tex Rickard, has asked Dunn not to sign Downey for any bout until Dunn sees Flynn.

From Jersey City came the offer of a guarantee of $20,000 with the privilege of thirty per cent. for a twelve-round no-decision fight with Wilson, O'Dowd, Mike Gibbins, Carbone or Ratner.

An offer come from Boston to box any one of five men, including Johnny Wilson, recent middleweight champion, who Downey defeated at Cleveland.

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FUNNY SKATE.

[BY HOWARD R. GARIS.]
[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

Once upon a time, when Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods, looking for some sweet carrot tops to chew, he saw behind a bush something that looked very queer and funny.

"Well!" exclaimed the old rabbit gentleman, as he scratched his tall silk hat on his left ear, "I wonder what it is?"

He skipped up a little closer and saw that the queer thing was made of something hard, like Nurse Jane's teakettle, and that it was shaped like the sole of a shoe.

"But it isn't a shoe," said Uncle Wiggily, "for it hasn't any buttons on or laces in. And it has green vines and ferns growing through it. Maybe it's a new kind of flower pot."

Then, as the bunny rabbit looked more closely, he saw four wheels on the object—a wheel on each corner.

"But it can't be a wagon," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, "for there is no handle by which to pull it. I wonder what it is?

He hopped slowly around it, trying to imagine what it might be. He was about to give it a push with his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch, when, all at once, out from behind a bush hopped Sammie Littletail the rabbit boy.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" called Sammie. "What are you doing, playing Rosie Around the Ringie?" Then Sammie laughed, for Mr. Longears was always getting the games of the animal children mixed up—like "Leap Scotch" and "Hop Frog."

"What are you doing?" asked Sammie again.

"Oh, just trying to find out what this queer thing is," answered the bunny uncle. "Do you know?"

"No, I can't say that I do," answered the boy rabbit. "I wonder if it's alive?" He crept slowly up to the queer thing and as loudly as he could, cried "Boo!"

"My goodness!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "You almost scared me! Did it move?"

"Not a bit," said Sammie. "I guess it isn't alive, unless it's sound asleep. But perhaps I can find out by touching it." Sammie put out his paw and gave the old roller skate a push. For of course, you have guessed what it was—an old roller skate over which grass and vines had grown.

The skate rolled slowly along the level ground.

"Oh, look!" cried Sammie. "It goes!"

"Isn't that funny?" laughed Uncle Wiggily, who, not having his glasses on, could not, as yet, very well tell what it was he had found. "Well, Sammie," he went on, "see if you can find out what it's for, while I hop on ahead to look for some carrots."

So the bunny uncle hopped away, leaving Sammie with the old roller skate. Mr. Longears went slowly along, singing a little song about a boy who found a poor, hungry dog, and took it home to live with him. And one day the boy fell into a pond and the dog pulled him out.

"Which goes to show that every good act is paid for somehow," thought the bunny gentleman. "If he had not fed the hungry dog the boy might have been left in the water too long and have taken cold."

At last Uncle Wiggily reached a carrot field, and, having pulled a paw full of the yellow vegetables, he started back with them. As he reached the place where he had left Sammie, Mr. Longears saw the little rabbit boy sitting on the old roller skate, and pushing himself along the ground by means of a stick.

"All aboard!" cried Sammie. "Train leaves in one minute. Next station, Mount Chocolate Candy."

"Wait! I'll take a ride with you!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. Putting his carrots on the skate, the rabbit gentleman hopped up beside Sammie, for the skate was an extra large one.

"Oh, goodie!" cried Sammie when he saw the carrots. "Now we can have a picnic. We'll go off on a trip. Let me take your crutch for a pusher!" Using the bunny's red, white and blue rheumatism crutch for a pusher instead of the stick he had picked up in the woods, Sammie sent the skate along very fast. They had a wonderful time. They would eat a carrot, go a little farther and then eat another carrot.

All at one Uncle Wiggily called: "Oh, Sammie; There's your sister!" And surely enough down the road, across a bridge was Susie, running away from the Fuzzy Fox.

"We'll have to save her, Sammie!" Give me my crutch to push with and you get yourself a stick. We must save Susie!"

Faster and faster the two rabbits pushed themselves along on the roller skate. Susie saw them coming and, turning ran toward them. The Fox turned and ran after her, gnashing his teeth. All at once the roller skate reached the bridge. You know what a loud noise an automobile makes going over a bridge. Well, that's just what the skate did. "Rumble-umble-boom!" it sounded.

The Fox heard the rumbling noise, but he didn't see Uncle Wiggily and Sammie on the skate, as they hid behind the carrots.

"Oh, my!" howled the Fox. "It's going to rain and I have left all the windows in my house open! I'll run home and catch Susie some other time!" So he turned back and ran away, leaving the little rabbit girl safe.

"Oh, how glad I am you came along," said Susie when she saw her brother and the bunny uncle. And they were glad, too.

If You Want More Bodily and Mental Vigor

Try Me I Only Require One Minute

of your time each day. I have helped give thousands of weak, run-down, nervous folks, increased strength and endurance, in two weeks' time, in many instances.

I am not a doctor but PHYSICIANS HAVE OFTEN ADVISED PEOPLE TO TRY ME. Former UNITED STATES SENATORS, United States Army Generals, Judges of U. S. Courts and many well known people have availed themselves of my help.

STRONG MEN, ATHLETES, BRAIN WORKERS—they know what I can do when they want the "stay there" strength and endurance that wins.

WOMEN WHO ARE WEAK, nervous and irritable as a result of overwork, worry or household drudgery have often obtained most surprising relief from me.

When, as a result of long starvation, you get up feeling tired in the morning when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night; when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but try me. I only take one minute of your time each day. I am NUXATED IRON—organic iron. I am like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. I help make strong, forceful, red blooded men and beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women. Without iron like me, your blood becomes pale, thin and watery and loses its power to change food into living tissue, therefore nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full strength out of it.

To prove to yourself what I can do get your doctor to take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles, then try me, for one month and have a new "blood count" made and see how your red blood corpuscles have increased and how much stronger and better you feel; how the color has come back to your face and how much stronger and more steady your nerves are. I will not injure your teeth nor disturb your stomach. You need not lose a cent on me. If I do not give you satisfactory results my manufacturers will refund your money. Get only me. Beware of imitators. I come in tablet only never in liquid form—Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet—and the word "Nuxated" on every package. Sold at all druggists—Adv.
